But I have heard an ump applauded by the crowd. It is well known in big league circles that Bob Emslie is under cover. Bob got hit on the head with a foul tip that missed the catcher during a game between the Giants and the St. Louis club several years ago while Bresnahan was catching for the Cardinals. Emslie was kuocked out and Roger Bresnahan began to administer first aid by applying the club sponge after it had been literally soused in the water pail. Emslie soon came to, fearing that his wig would be torn off and he would be exposed before the fans. He began to fight Bresnahan, struggled to his feet and staggered off alone. The crowd did not know what it was all about, but it applauded loudly, applauded the gameness of Old Bob, Bob Emstie's Good Eye.

Again Emslie was umpiring a contest at the Polo grounds when he called a runner safe at second. Mc-Graw differed and walked out toward ley High from school athletics, only the first base where Bob was work-
